7. READINESS

a. Topic: NMNG Readiness Links to tribal Economic Development/Employment/Service

1. Challenges

(1) NMNG readiness is at present more important than ever given the on-going discussions regarding Army downsizing and National Guard end strength reductions. Key to National Guard readiness is ensuring authorized end strength is 100% filled with deployable soldiers/airmen.

(2) Employment and economic opportunities within the Tribes, Pueblos, and Nations has long been an issue - service in the New Mexico National Guard by members of Tribes, Pueblos and Nations could provide employment opportunities along with formal military and technical training and job skills that would benefit member communities. The Tribes, Pueblos, and Nations within the State of New Mexico have a long and storied honorable tradition of military service. Encouraging the Native youth of New Mexico to consider service to the community, State and Nation through joining the National Guard has multiple positive economic, educational/professional development, medical and community service benefits.

b. Specific Actions:

1. Target engagement opportunities with Tribes, Pueblos and Nations to discuss service opportunities and benefits of service in the New Mexico National Guard.

2. Targeted recruiting fairs in conjunction/collaboration with Tribes, Pueblos, and Nations across the State.

3. Establishing routine interface/dialogue with senior leadership of Tribes, Pueblos, and Nations to expand knowledge of Department of Military Affairs capabilities, collaboration activities, and opportunities for membership (New Mexico Army and Air Guard, Civil Air Patrol, State Defense Force).

c. The New Mexico National Guard has two missions; one State and one Federal:
State: The New Mexico National Guard provides a fully capable and ready force able to provide Military Support to Civil Authorities, for Emergency Preparedness, Homeland Defense, Homeland Security, Humanitarian Assistance, and Disaster Relief missions for the Federal and State Governments where and when required to protect and safeguard our citizens. In addition, be prepared to maintain order, preserve the peace, protect life and property, and ensure public safety in accordance with the orders and directives of the Governor of New Mexico and The Adjutant General.

d. Federal: Provide command and control of all New Mexico National Guard units assigned to the State providing trained, equipped, and ready forces capable of mobilizing and deploying in support of their Federal mission and when required, deploy to any theater of operations and conduct missions in support of the National Command.
